WeCalEvent (Weather Calender Event)

WeCalEvent is a platform where users are able to create and manage their events and invite other users. The system alerts the event creator 3 days before the event day in case of weather condition alteration and suggests him the closest day with suitable weather.

All event participants will be notified in case of weather forecast alteration a day before the event. This platform is sufficient for users who look forward to schedule their events according weather conditions.